A fun way to learn those words:

The children and adult(s) can sit in a circle. One adult or child (person A) starts by saying to the one next to him or her (person B) "Bonjour, comment tu t'appelles?". Person B answers "Je m'appelles..., et toi?" and person A answers "Je m'appelles...". Then person B says the one on the other side of him or her (person C) the same sentences, etc. until all the persons in the circle have said the sentences.

This can be repeated several times, and participants can help each other to say the words.
